limited time price discount. . .

Entyre is pleased to announce a limited time price discount to customers that utilize standard X4 closing packages without customization or changes. Effective October 15, through the end of the year (Dec 31) Entyre is offering a $5 discount off of the base price of X4™ closing documents to encourage users to take advantage of the technological improvements associated with our new eMortgage-X4™ closing solution.

Due to the unprecedented acceptance of the product by not only new but existing customers, Entyre has been inundated with implementation requests, creating a challenge to transform the tens of thousands of customer forms in our existing user library. Since a large number of users actually make small changes to the standard forms library, Entyre believes that this discount will provide a beneficial incentive to accept the standard designs so that users might more quickly benefit from the significantly enhanced capabilities of X4 and the quicker turn around times. By meeting these needs with standard products, time is freed up to provide greater attention to those of you that have special requirements that must be addressed.

As Entyre continues to lead the industry in closing document technology, more and more of the company's specialized expertise has literally been incorporated into the system itself. This allows us to be a price leader and to get closing packages back to users more quickly than ever before.

For those customers who are unable to transition away from customized package language, a customization allowance will be established based on document volumes. (NOTE: the Rules Buffet built into X4 will still allow users to achieve significant package customization themselves, including some language changes, but will not be as extensive as a totally customized package.) Any customer needing customization beyond the standard capabilities will receive 8 hours of free work per year plus one hour for each 100 docs ordered over the prior 12 months. The 8 hours alone will be adequate to customize 2-3 typical forms, which meets the needs of the vast majority of users. Customization requirements beyond the above pool allocations will be billed at $100 per hour.

Entyre is excited about the performance and benefits of eMortgage-X4™ and how it serves the diverse needs of our customers, regardless of their volume or business environment. We sincerely appreciate each and every customer and anticipate that the vast majority will benefit from this potential price decrease.
